

Depot Color: Navajo Red & White Trim

The Grayling railroad depot will be painted Navajo red with white trim. Camp Lehman work crews began scraping and painting the building last Thursday.

Grayling Rotary member Randy Thompson said red base with white trim was the leading response from the community survey. Green with white trim was second, and he said there was a tremendous variety of other selections next.

The dark color selected will work better in covering the old paint than a lighter color, Thompson said.

Camp Lehman crews will be able to paint the entire depot thanks to AuSable Construction who donated the use of scaffolding. Thompson said the Rotary Club still needs about $300 more to pay for the paint and anyone wishing to contribute can contact a Rotary member. Depot buttons will also go on sale soon to help pay for the paint.

GMS Renovation Set for Sept. 10 Vote

A proposal to renovate the Grayling Middle School and add classrooms at the Grayling Elementary will be placed before Crawford AuSable voters Sept. 10.

The school board voted Monday night at its regular meeting to place a single issue before voters this fall. The issue includes:

- * renovating the existing middle school
- * a new addition between the middle school and gym including classrooms, cafeteria, kitchen, band room, and office
- * gym renovation
- * site work creating green play area and parking
- * moving the bus garage from the middle school to the high school
- * enclosing courtyards at Grayling Elementary to create six extra classrooms and an adequate-sized library.
- * new membrane roof with insulation to R28 factor at Grayling Elementary
- * boiler replacement at Grayling Elementary

* playground improvement at Grayling Elementary

* site work at Grayling Elementary to improve vehicle traffic flow.

The total cost of the issue is $4,950,000. The first year millage on a 20-year issue is estimated at 2.72 mills. The millage is lowered throughout the 20 years as S.E.V.'s increase.

This proposal is 1.14 mills lower than the last new middle school proposal of 3.86 mills voted down in December, 1984.

"The complete renovation of the Grayling Middle School would for all practical purposes build a new building inside the confines of the old building," said Kent Reynolds, Crawford AuSable School District Superintendent.

"The only thing remaining of the existing middle school would be the footings, the four outer walls, and the concrete floors under the science labs and the computer lab."

He said the building exterior would be repaired but would keep its present appearance.

To tear all of the building down and build a new structure at the site would cost an additional $1 million, he said.

Renovation of the middle school will create eight additional classrooms at the site for a total of 27.

Even with the addition of classrooms at the middle school, Reynolds said the school district will be five classrooms short at the elementary level by the school year 1988-89. Reynolds said putting the middle school and elementary work together on one ballot will save money and take care of all the problems at once to avoid returning to the voters.

Following is a complete list of the proposal elements.

Former Grayling Residents Awarded $2.2 Million in Lawsuit Settlement

Richard Steely, 18, and his mother, Cathy, could receive more than $2.2 million in cash payments spread over Richard's life following the settlement of a lawsuit against the Crawford County Road Commission.

Richard Steely was severely injured on January 17, 1981, when he was riding on a toboggan towed by a car.

Thomas Rensberry, a Gaylord attorney representing Richard Steely and Cathy Steely, alleged that the Crawford County Road Commission failed to place a stop sign at the intersection of Cameron Bridge Road and Hulbert Road, near the site of the accident.

Steely was struck by a car driven by William Barclay when the driver towing the toboggan, Thomas Ramsey, travelled through the intersection. Rensberry, of Rensberry, Kaufman, Nelson, Petruska, & Allen law firm in Gaylord, said settlement was previously reached with the two drivers involved.

The settlement was reached with Auto Owners Insurance Company, the insurance company for the county road commission at that time.

Richard Steely, a former Grayling resident, now lives in Utica.

7,210 Guards Train Here On Simulated 'Dirty Battlefield'

Annual Training '85 got underway June 17, after 7,210 National Guard troops from Michigan and Indiana made the annual trek to Camp Grayling for two weeks of intense training.

"The main thrust of this year's training is to improve our combat readiness," Brig. Gen. Stanley Wilk, Commander of Troops said. "We want to improve training over last year."

To achieve this, Wilk said, everyone will be expected to train harder and longer, using all available time, and to train with realism.

The realism Wilk wants to achieve won't be hard to come by. The simulated "dirty battlefield" the troops will train on will look much like one they could fight on in Europe. The terrain and weather of Grayling is very similar to that of Europe.

On the "dirty battlefield" they will be conducting electronic warfare (jamming radios, etc.), simulated chemical warfare, operating at night, and in all weather conditions. Also adding to the realism will be the use of smoke and pyrotechnics.

"We will be performing combined arms training and conducting an assault river crossing," Wilk said. That means that the infantry, engineers, artillery, and armor will be involved in action together.

Recall Process Started For Lovells Twp. Board

An effort to recall the entire Lovells Township Board has been started by a group called the Lovells Committee of Concerned Citizens.

The group filed Friday, June 14, their proposed recall petitions with the county elections commission, made up of Emil Kraus, the county probate judge, Joe Wakeley, county treasurer, and Beth Wieland, county clerk.

The elections commission will rule on the clarity of the petition language. If the petition wording is approved, the Lovells group must collect 60 signatures for each petition. The group submitted proposed recall petitions for all five members of the Lovells Township Board, Supervisor Lyle Jewell, Clerk Helen Spencer, Treasurer Dolores Haberland, Trustee Betty Burden, and Trustee Joyce Mullin.

If enough signatures are collected, a recall election will be held.

The recall petitions were filed by William Pulgini, of Lovells, who said he was representing the Lovells Committee of Concerned Citizens. He said the group had 39 interested persons already, and there were no elected officers for the committee yet.

The recall petitions submitted give the following reasons for the recall effort:

"With respect to proposed improvements and additions to the Lovells Township Hall and the Lovells Township Fire Building, the above stated elected Township official during the term of office, incident to official duties required, failed to faithfully represent the People of Lovells Township, and was otherwise guilty of misfeasance, non-feasance, and misconduct as follows:

- 1) At an Annual Township Meeting held March 30, 1985, failed to disclose the actual cost of such construction.
- 2) Failed to submit the project for, or otherwise secure competitive bids.
- 3) Approved the contract for such construction in an amount far in excess of that contained in the budget approved at the stated Annual Meeting.
- 4) No public notice was given of the proposed addition to the Township Fire Building of public outside restrooms.
- 5) Permitted start of construction prior to issuance of required building permit.
- 6) Approved signing of construction contract without posting for public inspection and notice in the Township, of the architect's drawings and specifications.

Dancing Renews Local Woman

By Nancy Lemmen

Don't try to tell Pat Schreiner she's too old to tackle something new. At age 62, Pat will be performing in her first dance recital, when the Crawford County Arts Council presents, "Cinderella and Other Fantasies," on Friday and Saturday evenings, June 28-29, in the Joseph Stripe Auditorium of Grayling High School.

Pat, a silver-haired grandmother and second year ballet student in the CCAC dance program, will appear in an ensemble number and will dance the role of the Queen Mother in "Cinderella," choreographed by her dance instructor, Louise Tournaud-Hayes.

A former secretary and church organist, Pat has "loved ballet for a long time," but only vicariously. Then, in the early 1980's, she began to be plagued by back problems to such a great extent that she couldn't even stand up straight.

When friend and now fellow dance student Lorna Morse suggested that adult ballet class might help her, Pat worried that she was too old to begin a new form of physical activity. CCAC jazz instructor Jini Hindmarsh told her, "I don't want to hear how old you are. If you're interested in dancing, go for it."

Go for it is exactly what Pat did, and she's been a die-hard dancer ever since. "Dancing has been a tremendous thing for me," asserts Pat with conviction. Instructor Tournaud-Hayes agrees. "When she started, she could barely get her leg up on the lower barre; now she regularly uses the higher one."

On this Thursday morning Pat is at the barre preparing for the upcoming recital in a private lesson with her instructor. Strains of classical music fill the arts center, purchased by the Council nearly two years ago to hold dance classes and other arts activities. It is difficult to believe that before beginning dance classes, this petite, attractive woman was "sicker than a dog," to use her own words.

From Our Corner...

We were a little disappointed Friday evening when we learned that Sal was in town and she didn't stop by to give us a few words of wisdom...Sal Truettner Hubel we speak of...during our early years at the helm of the Avalanche our Editor's Mailbox was kept filled by letters from Sal or Jack Mason, it seemed like they were in a race to see who could send in the most letters...for some of our newer residents who may not know Sal, she was the first lady to be elected to the County Board of Commissioners, and her achievements in the early days would fill a book...she was involved in anything that would help and promote Grayling and Crawford County...she headed up Grayling's Centennial among the larger tasks she undertook...

When we first moved here I didn't think there was anything that went on in Grayling that Sal was not connected with in some way...and above all she was not one to sit back without getting her idea across, in other words, Sal was quite outspoken to say the least...that is why I admired her so...between she and Spike MacNeven they are legends of their time...

Sal, the next time you are up north from the big city of Clare, stop by, I know you will make my day...

I just looked at the calendar...I can't wait until this Friday, June 21st...summer will officially be here...even if we have some chilly days, all one has to do is think summer and it will make you feel better...we probably shouldn't write this kind of stuff, especially when Dane and Cyd reads it and they have had over 110 degree weather lately out in Nevada...to us that would be like going to the Leprechaun's sauna...thinking about that, we will have to get him to fire it up a couple of times next winter just so the ol' fella can get the frost out of our joints...

We accomplished one thing Sunday, we slept in and our bride didn't ask us if we were ever going to get up, which surprised us because due to the weather she couldn't get to the links...must have been because it was Father's Day that she didn't give me heck, (that's polite for hell)...

An idle thought...as much as we like to publish the accomplishments of our younger generation when they aspire to higher things in life, we are happy to pass this on...last week in the Detroit Free Press we were reading about twin brothers down in the Lansing area being sentenced for molesting young scouts in their organizations...what caught my eye was that the sentencing judge was Clinton County Circuit Judge Randy Tahvonon...now to many of our readers, they would ask who is Randy?...before his father Emil went to Lansing with the Auditor General's office of Michigan they lived in Grayling and Randy was a student in GHS...in fact, he was in the same grade as our son Dane...the Tahvonon family were long time residents of Grayling...when Randy was elected he was the youngest Circuit Judge in Michigan...

The signs of growing old...Friday night at the hotel we shared a table with Bruce and Corrine Smith, and guess what, the conversation we had with Bruce was not about the present day happenings...it was about guys we each knew back in the 30's...basketball mostly, because Bruce was a coach and if it hadn't been for WW II we would have joined Bruce at Central Michigan U. in an attempt to become a coach ourselves...names were brought up that brought back fond memories of our younger life...nostalgia to say the least...

The annual Milltown Festival will be held in Grayling from Tuesday, July 23rd through Saturday, July 27th. There are $1.00 McDonald's certificates in several businesses around town and the purchase of them aids the fund raising efforts to cover the promotional and festival expenses to have another successful and enjoyable Festival again this year...so, if you are inclined to have a Big Mac, buy a certificate and aid the cause...

With that we will close this week's turkey and bid T.J., Stefany and Amber goodnight, and to all of our readers have a nice weekend...think summer, it will be here Friday...

The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

THE REALITY OF HELL

Many people will be shocked at death to learn God's last name is not "Damn" and "Hell" is much more than a swear word. Hell is just as real as God, Satan, life, death, heaven or earth. Hell is that place of everlasting fire prepared for the Devil and his fallen angels. (Matt 25:41). Absence of preaching about Hell in churches today just proves the unbelief or liberal clergy behind the pulpit. Listen to the facts:

1. How is Hell described in the Bible? Hell is a lake of fire. (Rev 20:15). Hell is a furnace of fire. (Matt 13:41, 42). Hell is a devouring fire. (Isa 33:14). Hell is a place of unquenchable fire. (Matt 3:12; Mark 9:44; Luke 3:17; Mark 9:48). Hell is a place of fire and brimstone. (Rev 14:10; Rev 19:20; Rev 20:10, Rev 21:8). Hell is a bottomless pit. (Rev 20:10). Hell is a place of everlasting burnings. (Isa 33:14). Hell is a prison. (2 Pet 2:4). Hell is a place of torments. (Luke 16:23). Hell is a place of everlasting destruction. (2 Thess 1:9).

2. What do people do in Hell for all eternity? They scream for mercy. (Luke 16:24). They weep and wail. (Matt 13:42, Matt 8:12). They weep and gnash their teeth in pain. (Matt 13:42, 50; Matt 8:12; Matt 22:13; Matt 25:30). They suffer in torment. (Luke 16:23, 25; Rev 14:10, 11; Rev 20:10). They will be punished with everlasting destruction. (2 Thess 1:9). Smoke will roll off their burning bodies for eternity. (Rev 14:11). They will breathe out living flames. (Isa 33:12). They will beg for a drop of water. (Luke 16:24). They will go to eternity without a chance to ever sleep or rest from pain. (Rev 14:11). They will suffer the pain of eternal death in a body which cannot die.

3. Who will be in Hell? The devil, antichrist, the false prophet, and all the fallen angels will be there. (Matt 25:41, Rev 20:10). "But the fearful (cowards), and unbelieving, (Atheists), and the abominable, and murderers, and whoremongers, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all liars, shall have their part in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone: which is the second death." (Rev 21:8). All wicked people, and all pagan nations that forget God will be in Hell. (Psalm 9:17). Persons who never learned to fear punishment as children. (Prov 23:13, 14). The many who are following the wide gate and the broad way which leads to destruction. (Matt 7:13). All who have not received Jesus Christ as Lord and Savior and had their names written in the book of life will go to Hell. (Rev 20:15).

Remember, God never made Hell for humans. Humans go to Hell because they choose to follow Satan and his fallen angels in rebellion against God, His Word and His Work. God says, "I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked; but that the wicked turn from his way and live: turn ye, turn ye from your evil ways; for why will ye die?" (Ezekiel 33:11). "For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life. For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved. He that believeth in him is not condemned: but he that believeth not is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God. And this is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil. For everyone that doeth evil hateth the light, neither cometh to the light, lest his deeds should be reproved." John 3:16-20.

Almanack

A couple of kudos

by Richard Milliman

COLUMNISTS, such as this one, are swift to offer criticism when an action by any public official goes against their grain. So this particular essayist is pleased to offer instead a couple of kudos for actions by public officials which particularly pleased him.

ONE WAS THE RESPONSE by Rep. Dan Rostenkowski to President Reagan's far-reaching tax program. Mr. Reagan, of course, is a Republican, and Mr. Rostenkowski is a Democrat, who was chosen by his party leadership to respond to Mr. Reagan's free half-hour on national television to unveil his tax program.

Usually when Democratic spokespersons follow up on the President's prime time freebie, they are supremely critical of anything the President said, no matter what the tenor of the import of the presidential commentary.

Not so this time. Instead, Mr. Rostenkowski said, in effect, "Right on, Mr. President! We're all for tax reform, too, and we'll back you all the way — as long as we think you're right."

WHAT A SWITCH for the Democrats. Instead of picking at all the Reagan words and programs, they chose the higher road. It also, in my opinion, will be the more effective way to operate, both for the public welfare, and for their own political profit.

Maybe finally the Democratic movers and shakers have got it through their political consciousness that a lot of people around the country think very kindly of Ronald Reagan, and agree with what he is trying to do. Maybe they have figured out that attacking the President at every turn is bad politics for them.

In any event, the Democratic response by Rep. Rostenkowski was a welcome change from the usual automatic negativism and fault-finding. And Mr. Rostenkowski, as the chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee — which will handle all tax legislation — was the perfect person to respond.

His manner and his message were both ingratiating. More power to him. It was a great performance.

THEN THERE WAS the Philadelphia

tragedy involving the police bombing of a house that sheltered the entrenched MOVE membership, and the resultant destruction of 60-some homes.

That was a real tragedy, of course, and brings into question the judgment of the police and other public officials in Philadelphia about their course of action, as well as their knowledge about the impact of the weapons at their disposal.

Be that as it may, it happened. The results are still to be figured in the long run, but they amount to a genuine American tragedy in the short run.

The one bright light, in my opinion, was the course chosen by Philadelphia Mayor Wilson Goode. The mayor insisted it was his order which permitted the bombing, and which started the unfortunate chain of events. Mr. Goode stood behind his police officials and their actions all the way.

IF ANYONE is to blame, Mr. Goode in effect told his Philadelphia constituents and the world at large it would be the mayor himself. And he stayed with this position all the way through the crisis, when it must have been very inviting for someone in his position to have tried to pass the buck to a lesser official — the police chief, or the operations personnel, or anyone else.

The action by Mr. Goode in holding tight his personal responsibility probably averted even greater sorrow and trouble.

Mr. Goode is black. Most of the victims of the Philadelphia holocaust were black, too. The situation was ripe for rioting and looting and death and destruction. But there was none. Cities have been torn apart with much less provocation, but Philadelphia remained relatively calm under the most adverse of circumstances.

That more riotous trouble failed to develop is a tribute to the people of Philadelphia, to the people of the devastated neighborhood more especially...and in particular to Mayor Goode for his statesman-like posture in the wake of the trouble. That took guts.

So hats off to Rep. Dan Rostenkowski and to Mayor Wilson Goode. They both deserve praise, and our thanks.

1896 CABIN MOVED — One of the first cabins built in the county was moved last week. The cabin, built by John Stephan, Sr. in 1896, is owned by Pat and Bernie Fowler and they had it moved about 75 yards as they consolidate lands and buildings at Edgewater along the AuSable near Stephan Bridge. The cabin was one of the first fishing lodges built along the river and it was too close to the original house to meet current zoning regulations as a separate dwelling. Several visitors watched the historic move as the entire cabin was taken off its foundation and placed at another site. Jack Millikin & Sons Excavating handled the tricky move.

Cardiac Rehabilitation

By Edward Yulska, Pres.
Associated Physical Therapists, P.C.

Cardiac rehabilitation programs are increasing as hospitals look to provide more needed services. In the past, a few hospitals offered either an inpatient or an outpatient program and usually under the direction of the Physical Therapy Dept. With the advent of new hospital reimbursement, interest has increased in providing more cardiac programs.

The heart muscle is somewhat similar to other muscles in our body when damaged. Initially rest is needed and then gradual strengthening. Unlike other muscles that move our extremities, we cannot use a weight to strengthen the heart. However, one can strengthen it using heart rate and blood pressure to monitor progress.

Every activity we do affects our heart and heart rate. As our heart works it helps to transport oxygen in our blood cells, muscles, brain, etc. Without oxygen we all know that we cannot exist long! Oxygen is the fuel and the heart is the pumping mechanism. Knowing that activity uses a certain amount of oxygen, physical therapists are able to instruct a patient to do certain activities such as washing your face, eating, combing your hair, working, etc. As the amount of oxygen needed to perform a certain activity increases, the heart has to work harder to get the oxygen to the part of the body that needs it. Activity is measured in METS (Metabolic Equivalent Units). After a heart attack, activities such as sitting up in bed require 1.5 to 2.0 METS. Our daily activities are generally below 8 METS.

Cardiac rehabilitation programs for inpatients generally use this type of program. If no abnormal changes occur with monitoring the heart, one goes on to the next level. This continues until one is able to perform daily activities without problems, they are then usually discharged.

Outpatient cardiac rehabilitation programs continue at different times after you are discharged from the hospital depending on the physician's past experience. An evaluation should be done prior to initiating an outpatient program. Usually a treadmill test is given. From this test, a maximal exercise heart rate is established.

The physician usually prescribes a percentage (60 to 70%) of the maximal heart rate (target heart rate). From this exercise, heart rate and percentage, a program of activity is initiated. A normal male walks at 3.2 miles per hour, a female at 3.0 miles per hour. Using the heart rate as the criteria, one can start a rehabilitation program of walking gradually increasing the time and distance regulated by the heart rate.

Resting heart rate taken before exercise is important also. If the heart rate is around 100 beats per minute, exercise should not be undertaken unless advised by the physician. A slower resting heart rate shows that the heart is not working hard. A normal resting rate is 65-70 beats per minute.

The time the heart takes to get back down to within 10% of the resting heart rate after activity, is important as it indicates whether the activity was overly strenuous. Heart rate usually returns a 10-20% of the resting heart rate within a few minutes.

If a patient is taking medication to slow the heart down, activity has to be monitored to make certain that the program is adjusted accordingly.

Mercy Hospital in Grayling is investigating the possibilities of instituting an inpatient program and later an outpatient cardiac program to be operated by the Occupational and Physical Therapists.

Judge Refuses Request For Corporate Campaign Activity

Warren M. Hoyt, Executive Dir., MPA

U.S. District Court Judge Roger Hillman has refused to permit corporations to make independent expenditures on behalf of political candidates, but said the issue is a close one involving issues of free speech and equal protection.

The denial of a temporary injunction against provisions of state campaign finance laws was the opening round in a lawsuit described by a State Chamber of Commerce official as "the next case that frames the issues of corporate speech in the political arena."

The Chamber brought the suit to enable political activity in the July 10 special House election, but Vice President for Political Affairs Robert LaBrant said he hopes now for definitive court action in time for the 1986 elections.

Assistant Attorney General Richard Gartner and Joel Boyden, attorney for the Chamber, both said the judge said it was a close question of whether the law is constitutional, but did have enough information at this time to take the drastic step of enjoining its enforcement.

A plaintiff must show a substantial likelihood of winning the suit and of suffering irreparable harm in order to obtain a temporary injunction.

The federal government and at least 21 other states limit in some way corporate political activity. But unlike the federal government, which bans direct expenditures on behalf of candidates by both corporations and unions, the Michigan law affects only corporations.

According to Boyden, Hillman said he would be "looking very closely" at the equal protection argument to see the distinction between corporations and labor organizations.

"We have somehow got to produce an evidentiary record to show that the purpose of the law is to prevent corruption and the appearance of corruption. The Supreme Court has said a proper governmental interest (in campaign finance restrictions) is preventing corruption," Gartner said.

Boyden said it is difficult to see how the specter of corruption arises by corporate entities and not by labor.

The suit cites a recent U.S. Supreme Court decision striking federal campaign restrictions against independent expenditures by political actions committees.

BLANCHARD OBJECTS TO OIL & GAS TESTS UNDER LAKES

Governor James Blanchard recently said he opposes a request by a Texas oil company to test for oil and gas deposits beneath the three largest Great Lakes, saying he could not encourage a project that could lead to drilling for the energy supplies.

"The risks of oil drilling and exploration within the Great Lakes are simply unacceptable," Blanchard said in a letter to Grant-Norpac of Houston.

The company has asked the Department of Natural Resources and similar agencies in Wisconsin and Minnesota for permission to use air guns to yield seismic information on types and quantities of oil and gas beneath Lakes Superior, Michigan, and Huron.

The technique is apparently not covered by a 1982 law banning oil and gas drilling in lakes bottomlands, but Blanchard said the law was aimed at both exploration and actual taking of oil and gas.

"It is my opinion that the Legislature expressed the clear intent of the people of Michigan to prohibit all oil and gas exploration or drilling in the Great Lakes. I share this sentiment," he said.

The company submitted a request to the Land Resources Division of the DNR two months ago.

Morgan Nielsen, a division official in charge of Great Lakes submerged lands, said Michigan law does not cover surveying for oil and gas, and studies indicate the technique has no impact on fisheries.

He said Wisconsin and Minnesota approved the seismic technique, but with restrictions.

GHCC Thanks Volunteers

By Nancy Holcomb
Activities Director

The Grayling Health Care Center wishes to gratefully acknowledge all those volunteers who have shared of their time, talents, and love with our residents.

Volunteers like the Women's Fellowship of the Congregational Church of Roscommon and the Disabled American Veterans' Auxiliary of Prudenville who have donated a colorful variety of afghans and lap robes to Health Care residents.

Or volunteer groups like the Milltown Musicians and the Grayling Dance Club who faithfully visit GHCC each week to bring the joy of music and dance to facility residents.

A large part of any adult volunteer force are seniors who donate their time through such organizations as RSVP - transporting residents to doctors or by visiting residents.

Children are also volunteers including the Pathfinders, Brownie Troop #2100, Michelson Memorial Methodist Church's two children's choirs, and the Higgins Lake Junior American Veterans who have contributed to GHCC's Adopt-a-Grandparents Program, participated in facility pet shows, entertained for residents, and celebrated their holidays by providing residents with special gifts.

Herbal Corner

The following have been taken from "The Herbalist".

MACE: The outer covering of Nutmeg kernel has a very mild flavor. Used like Nutmeg. According to an Indian source Mace is a powerful metabolic stimulant.

MARIGOLD: Fresh or dried flowers used in soups, broths, salads & yellow cake.

NASTURIUM FLOWERS: Young foliage and flower petals add flavor and aroma to soups, salads, and canapes. Seeds are used to season mixed pickles.

ROSE GERANIUM: One or two leaves in bottom of baking dish, freezing tray, fruit cup, fruit punch, jellies, ice cream, etc., adds a delicate suggestion of roses.

ROSEMARY: Used to flavor hams, salt meats, roast beef, veal, lamb, gravies, sauces, poultry, and rice. When using dried herb, allow leaves to steep several hours to soften before cooking. When using on meats that require long cooking, sprinkle the herb upon food about an hour before it is finished cooking, to capture full bouquet of this herb. Long cooking destroys the fine flavor of culinary herbs.

Whenever you cook with herbs you should never put them in the pot until the last few minutes of cooking. The volatile oils will dissipate with the steam. When cooking with herbs think of them as you would a tea. A tea is steeped for 10 to 20 minutes in boiling water for a full strong-flavor - the same with cooking. Parsley, in particular, should never be added until the last 10 minutes; and then, it is taken off the burner.

If you have any questions, contact me at Cerelli's Herb Farm or at 517-348-8727.

Herbally yours,
E. Diona Cerelli, C.H.

Celebrate 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Lobdell celebrated their Golden Anniversary on June 8th. Mr. Lobdell brought his bride to Grayling 50 years ago on their honeymoon, they camped on beautiful Lake Margrethe. They have spent part of each summer except for time out in service, and retired in Grayling 9 years ago.

There was a beautiful party on June 6, at the home of Ray and Lillian Smith given by their many senior friends. There was a lovely buffet dinner with a two tier anniversary cake. On Saturday evening a party was given by their nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. William Schultz at their home on the lake.

All their new and old friends from Camp Margrethe and neighbors joined in to make it a gala affair. A huge basket of yellow flowers with corsages to match of silk were from their children from Mt. Clemens, Mich. and Austin, Texas. They received many thoughtful gifts and cards.

Grayling Troop Attends 75th Anniversary Celebration

Grayling's Boy Scout Troop 979 was represented by three Scouts and two Leaders at the Lake Huron Area Council Diamond Jubilee Jamboree, which was held at the fairgrounds in Midland during the week-end of May 3-5. Troop 979 Scouts that attended this event were: Ron Bancroft, Jason Clark, and Jay Ramsey. Loren Goodale III also attended as Scoutmaster with Todd Pfaff as his Assistant.

This event, which was held in celebration of the Boy Scouts of America's 75th Anniversary, brought together Scouts from all eight districts of the Lake Huron Area Council, which stretches from Alpena to Midland. In attending this event, visitors were given the opportunity to observe the skills and brotherhood that is gained through being a Boy Scout.

On Friday evening, at the opening ceremony, the Scouts were given an Indian dance demonstration, entertained by a bluegrass band, and to close the evening on a serious note, Order of the Arrow tap-out ceremonies were held.

On Saturday, many of the troops had displays ranging from First Aid techniques to information on Nuclear Energy. Open houses were also held at the Airport, and at the National Guard Armory, both of which are adjacent to the Midland Fairgrounds. Activities were also held during the day designed specifically for the attending Cub Scouts.

And, as a fitting close Saturday night, a slide presentation was given dramatizing the history of Scouting in the United States, with Scouts from each district providing their acting skills for specific events; starting with Scouting's original conception by Lord Baden-Powell, to its immigration to America through the efforts of William D. Boyce, from helping with the national scrap collection efforts during the first and second World Wars, to helping other people anytime. And with the close of this presentation, showing the epic of an organization which bound millions of boys with one common ideal, thus came a display of fireworks which aptly celebrated that 75 year old bond.

This event also gave Houghton Lake Troop 955 the opportunity to return the generosity of Canadian Troop 8 from Sault Ste. Marie, Ont. by inviting them to attend the Diamond Jubilee Jamboree with the American Scouts. Last fall, the Canadian Troop hosted both the Houghton Lake Troop, and Grayling Troop 979 to their own camporee, which took place on the St. Mary's River near Sault Ste. Marie.

Not only did the Scouts from eastern Michigan celebrate their 7th Anniversary at this weekend event, they shared that celebration with our Canadian friends. And so the Scouting brotherhood continues.

If you boys are anticipating an uneventful summer, and you are 11 years or older, why not give Scouting a try. Troop 979 is working to give its Scouts an eventful summer by planning many exciting activities. If you are interested in Scouting, please call Loren Goodale III at 348-9414 for information, or attend one of the Troops meetings on Monday nights at 7:00 behind Goodale's Bakery.

Doodles From The Tall Timber

By Wendell L. Hoover
Park Interpreter

The dictionary defines an albino as an organism lacking normal pigmentation. Webster goes on to say that an animal would have white hair or fur and red eyes. Most of the Red Squirrels we are seeing at the present time are from this springs litters. They are only a slight bit smaller than their parents, but it is still obvious which are which. One source I have indicates there are two color phases and over twenty sub-species. At this time of year their under parts are clear white, they are more reddish above and have a black stripe between their front and back legs.

The Red Squirrel that came to the feeder and has been back several times may not have red eyes, but it has a white tail and is otherwise very light colored. Its coloration shows very little of the normal Red Squirrel color, but it hasn't lost much of the saucy behavior we associate with Red Squirrels. It was probably one member of a litter of six young and before the snow flies there will be another litter. The life span maybe up to twelve years, but with the predators taking their toll when next spring rolls around there won't be many left.

The Red Squirrels eat a variety of plant and animal matter. They may not be important from an economic standpoint, but they hide a lot of seeds from which trees eventually grow.

The Roscommon Arts Council is sponsoring a unique performance of the Hirtshals Big Band in combination with the Nordia Gymnastique Team from Denmark on Monday evening July 1 at 8:00 p.m. in the Roscommon High School Auditorium. There will be no charge for admission to the lively concert of music and movement, but donations will be accepted for the Roscommon Arts Council Scholarship fund. These two groups are touring under the auspices of Michigan's Blue Lake Fine Arts Camp, located near Whitehall. Blue Lake has an exchange program with Europe and Japan and several of the international touring groups have performed in our area during recent summers.

The Hirtshals Big Band was formed in 1980 in the town of Hirtshals, Denmark in the Public School of Music. There is considerable cultural activity in the town as well as a progressive school administration which encourages students to participate in the strong music program and in other artistic activities. There are 22 members in the band who range from 15 to 55 years in age. They are all amateurs and students or former students of the school's music instructors. Their repertoire consists of a wide range of big band music including latin, swing, funk and rock arrangements. The band leader is Per Ringkjober who was a professional jazz trumpet/flugelhorn player with several European bands and is an experienced music educator.

The leader of the Nordia Gymnastique team is Margit Ringkjober, wife of the band leader, who has worked in gymnastics for over 25 years and has choreographed dances in musical theatre productions. The team consists of 20 young women and one young man between the ages of 15 and 24 years. Some members of the group have been working together for 10 years. Many members are leaders of other gymnastic teams and some members have also been working in plays and musical theatre where dancing was required.

The Big Band and the Gym Team began working together in 1983 forming a collaboration of arts that is unique in Denmark. The leaders of both groups enjoy the challenge of combining two performance mediums in an exciting and modern way.

Retirement Party For Martha Petersen

A retirement and dedication party was held on June 11th at the Maple Forest Townhall honoring Martha J. Petersen for her many years of serving the people of Maple Forest in both offices as Clerk and Treasurer.

About 70 friends, relatives and neighbors enjoyed a bountiful meal, after being led in Prayer by Ethel Hummel.

A Kitchen Clock and Plaque was dedicated and placed at the Hall commemorating her faithful service. She was also presented with a gift by the Township Board Members, and from the Maple Forest Woman's Club, and also received several gifts and cards from relatives and friends.

A toast was given by Sue Keene, Clerk representing the Township Board, by Ethel Hummel for the Woman's Club and friends, followed by Bernard Feldhauser, a nephew, for the family.

The evening ended with a "Solo" of Memories sung by Barbara Domick, accompanied on the piano by Sue Keene, and a "Sing-a-long" that included "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow."

What the Moose Stands For!

The Moose is not just a private bar, it is an organization that supports Moose members, their children, and their elderly people.

The Mooseheart is a home for children whose fathers are deceased and whose mothers cannot afford to help them on her own. The mother and children can go to Mooseheart and never worry about a thing. The children by the time they are out of school have a trade they can go in, that is taught in high school. This is all paid for by your dues.

After fifteen years of continuous service in the Moose, and over 65 years of age, you are eligible for Moosehaven in Orange Park, Florida. While you are there, you pay for nothing. Food, lodging for man and wife, money to spend, everything you could possibly need is paid for by your dues.

The Moose in this town needs more good members so they can progress and start on a new building they desperately need. So keep in mind your dues are not only for the bar, it is a cheap insurance policy for men, women and children.

The above article was written and printed in the Avalanche a few years back by Supreme Lodge Auditor, Bill Pettit. We felt it was a good time to put it in again as we are working very hard to bring in new good members and to obtain another building. We'd like very much to build the Moose in this town up to the finest one in Michigan and to obtain a fine standing in our community. So Moose members, join the campaign and help us obtain our goal.

Editor's Mailbox

Robert Andrus
Route 1, Box 1659
Grayling, Mich 49738
June 4, 1985

Dear Editor,

Several weeks ago in his Detroit Free Press outdoor sports column Tom Opre announced that a petition drive had been initiated. The petition demanded that the Michigan Department of Natural Resources establish a no-kill regulation on the quality fly fishing only water of the main stream of the AuSable River. In addition to the petition drive, Tom also asked that those favoring no-kill regulations to write the DNR Fisheries Division. To many of the fishermen who already return all of the fish they catch, on the surface this proposal sounds intriguing. But of course there is another side to the no-kill controversy.

Today trout fishing on the AuSable River is considered by nearly all its anglers as extremely good. Mr. Opre feels that catching fish can get even better if the DNR establishes no-kill. However, according to DNR Fisheries Biologists, Trout Unlimited scientific advisors, and even the trout researchers who put together the computer model which simulates trout populations, it is unlikely that the fishermen's catch rate will improve much.

Trout Unlimited scientific advisors and their professional personnel have both repeatedly warned us not to be overbold on no-kill. Before he left Michigan, Dr. Ray White, a national TU scientific advisor now from Montana, told Michigan TU leaders that he did not know of any rivers in our state that he would recommend for no-kill designation. Dr. Robert Behnke, another national TU scientific advisor and considered by many as the leading authority on trout research, has addressed the catch and release issue in the following manner:

It should be emphasized that sincere and knowledgeable anglers can get "hung up" on special regulations, viewing them as a panacea for reversing trends of declining trout populations. Special regulations, although of potential value and locally significant will play only a minor role in the overall future of trout fishing in America. Environmental quality is the key to flourishing trout populations and special regulations are meaningless without proper environment.

Nearly all fishermen in the Grayling area agree with other trout fishermen in Michigan and resource managers that some special regulations are often necessary. Most of us believe that special regulations are appropriate and advisable under two conditions. First when the resource is threatened and secondly when there is overwhelming support for the regulation. AuSable River fish populations are thriving and the opposition here in Crawford County is nearly complete.

Dr. Robert Behnke has developed a list of criteria that he considered crucial to the success of no-kill:

- (1). A relatively long life span (6-7 years) and low to moderate average annual mortality rates.
- (2). Good average growth rate (3-4" per year).
- (3). The bulk of the population consisting of six inch or larger trout.
- (4). Vulnerability to angler exploitation to the extent that light to moderate fishing pressure can remove more than 50% of the catchable size fish.

The Main Stream trout fail to fit this mold on all counts. They do not have a long life span. Growth rates are considered poor. The bulk of the population is under six inches and the current fishing mortality rate is only 30%.

In 1980, Mr. Opre used Dr. Behnke's criteria for no-kill as justification for catch and release for the South Branch of the AuSable. He felt then that the South Branch when compared to the Main Stream was the better choice. In his column on July 6, 1980 Mr. Opre expounded: "The stream's (South Branch) limited recruitment (compared to, say, the AuSable Mainstream) seems ideally suited to building up a stockpile of large trout on the upper end of the population curve." In that same article Mr. Opre continues, "Frankly, I've had it. Only one thing will prove whether or not advocates of no-kill are right or wrong. Create no-kill on the Mason Tract (South Branch). And if administrators in Lansing won't listen or respond, then take the case directly to the state Natural Resources Commission."

Many of us who were leaders in the Michigan Council in 1980 listened to the no-kill advocates. They convinced us that there was no way that no-kill could fail. The State Council of Trout Unlimited demanded no-kill and the DNR gave in to those demands. The no-kill experiment on the South Branch is now considered by almost everyone to be a failure. Fishing pressure has been reduced to only half of what it was under previous regulations. During the same period of time fishing pressure both above and below the no-kill area has increased. The stockpiles of large trout that Mr. Opre predicted have not built up. TU's support for the no-kill experiment has been an embarrassment. I hope that we have learned not to dictate trout management decisions to professional fisheries managers.

Recognizing that the South Branch experiment has apparently failed, Mr. Opre now is nominating the Main Stream. It is quite apparent that Mr. Opre hasn't learned much except for how to kick up ant hills. All he really wants is fly fishermen who catch and kill fish to get off his river. Many of us who catch and release fish from the Main Stream, but realize that other fly fishermen have other needs, find his self-centered philosophy repugnant.

We fear that no-kill regulations on a stream like the AuSable will serve no other purpose than alienating thousands of aspiring and traditional anglers. Trout Unlimited needs the support of all trout fishermen if our organization is to grow and continue to affect the much needed stream restoration work in Michigan. Tom Opre should be focusing his media attention to the real resource protection issues.

The biggest problem on the AuSable, beside the canoe conflict, is the crowds of fishermen in the month of May. By improving Michigan's other streams, bringing them up to par with the AuSable, perhaps those large numbers of fishermen on the AuSable will be reduced.

Sincerely,
Bob Andrus

Guards Simulate Battlefield

To stress the importance of this training, Wilk said, if mobilization ever takes place, he is certain the National Guard will be called upon.

"We're ready more so than ever. Every unit has a CAPSTONE mission. We've been training overseas and working closely with the active Army. We're doing the job," Wilk said.

"We're not a second-rate organization anymore. We're getting more equipment than ever before. The equipment the Army is giving us is up-to-date, not 'hand-me-downs,'" he said.

Because the Guard may someday be called upon, Wilk said, it's essential that individuals train to learn how to sustain themselves for a long period of time in a combat environment. "We need to learn how to maintain ourselves and our equipment. In combat you can't take time off to fix something. If a truck breaks down, you can't let it go and say, 'We'll get it fixed next week when we go back.' You have to deal with it right then," he said.

NBC (Nuclear, Biological, Chemical) training is one area that will receive a great deal of attention this year, Wilk said. In an attempt to increase NBC training, everyone will be in MOPP 4 configuration for six continuous hours Tuesday of both weeks. That means the chemical suit will be worn in addition to the protective mask, gloves, and boots.

NBC training is critical, Wilk said. "You need to learn how to operate and survive in this gear. You need to learn how to attend to personal hygiene and how to eat when you're wearing it.

Though the goal is for everyone to operate for six hours at MOPP 4 level, the weather will dictate how long the training will last. "Common sense will rule," Wilk said.

As always, safety will be a prime concern. Proper caution should be used at all times, Wilk said. "Even though everyone will be training hard, they don't have to be careless. We want to bring everybody back when training is done."

Dancer in 1st Recital

traditional practice garb of tights, leotard, and leg warmers, worn with a practical blouse in a complementary shade, Pat moves with the grace of a dancer with years of experience behind her. "Look," she says, demonstrating as she speaks. "Before I began ballet in January of '84, my arms could barely reach my knees when I bent forward. Now they almost touch the ground."

Allen Schreiner, her husband, agrees that the ballet courses have improved the quality of Pat's life. "She made up her mind she wanted to try dancing, and ballet has helped her a lot - emotionally and physically."

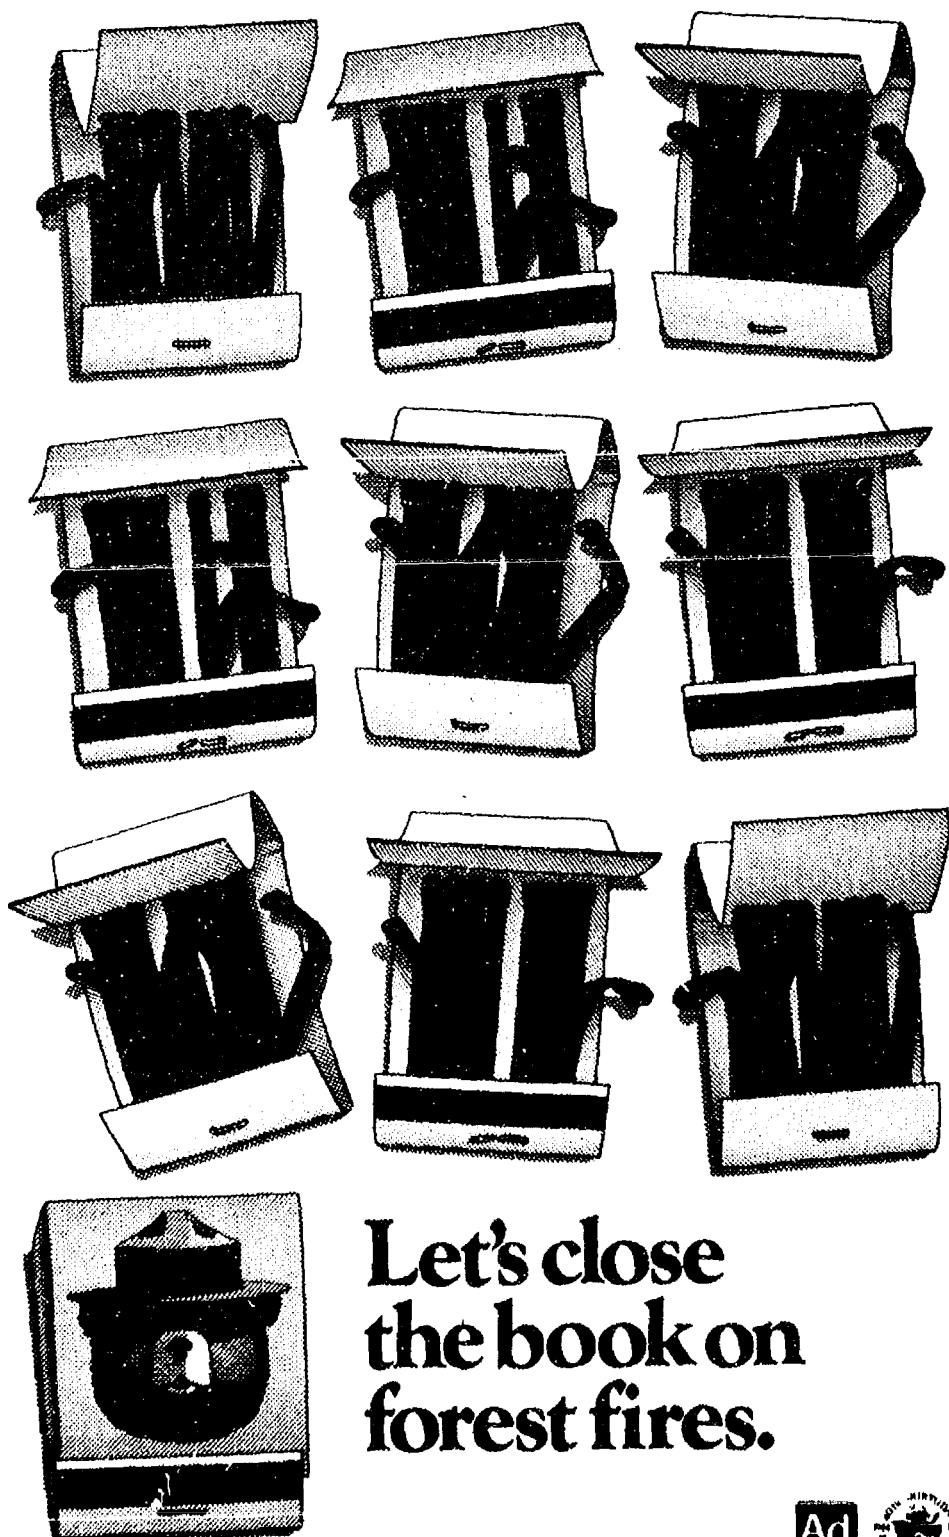

Louise Tournaud-Hayes nods. "Pat puts a lot of feeling into her dance. I wish more adults had her diligence and attitude and realized that you're never too old to dance."

Pat possesses a realistic attitude toward her new avocation: "I'm not a prima ballerina, I hate plies, and I've been telling people that my recital costume is a four-four instead of a tu-tu." And like any other relative beginner, she wobbles a bit on the more difficult steps.

Chances are, though, that friends and family members at the recital will see well-executed plies and a steady form, so devoted is Pat to the idea of giving a good performance on June 28-29, when the curtains go up at 7:30 p.m.

Tickets for the recital can be purchased at Flowers by Josie, Main Street Florals, Weaver's Gift Shop, the Arts Center, or at the door.

Let's close the book on forest fires.

Chamber Chatter

It seems just like yesterday that we moved from Grayling City Hall to the new Chamber of Commerce building in the City Park, but it was a year ago. How time flies. We had accumulated files and records of many years past and the new quarters were designed to accommodate a different attitude. We had a problem with that until we decided to screen the necessary information for retention and put the rest in storage. We're organized now and things are running much smoother. If you haven't heard the details, let me fill you in on part of it anyway.

It was Ernie Dawson's and Ron Fraser's dream to house the Chamber in a facility all of its own. The more we talked about it the more assistance was suggested until we got a few minds together to put the ideas in motion. The City of Grayling was approached on releasing a small section of the City Park for the location. The effort settled a lot of arguments on where it should be built. We wanted the building next to the AuSable River, near the center of community activities like downtown, and on the main thoroughfare for information purposes. Randy Thompson, who, with the Housing Rehab Commission had access to a Funding Program created by the County Commissioner's with interest money collected from Rehab loans. The official name for the new committee is the Crawford County Economic Development Fund. The Chamber Board of Director's borrowed $30,000 from this fund to be paid back $200.00 per month. This money was used for materials and equipment, such as furnace, toilets, air conditioner, water system, phones and so on. The labor part of this project was furnished by Grayling High School Students of the Building Trades Class. The instructor of the class Dale Lesh was assisted by the following students: John Wejrowski, Norm Bancroft, Roger Moon, Tom Sorenson, Ervin Watson, Dave Gardner, Mike Crouch, Scott Collen, Jim Brown, Kevin Wakeley, Joe Smock, Shawn Walsh and Kirt Lyons. The labor was a big item and this example of Community cooperation was a most welcome gesture.

The building and the service provided by the Chamber Staff are a real asset to the Community. It's a nice building, the kind that makes you feel good when visitors remark about the efficient and convenient location of a Chamber of Commerce. A Chamber of Commerce that is the Spirit of the Community.

The Michigan Guard will be with us next week and as usual we are planning a reception for the Officers on Monday, June 17th, and for the enlisted men on Thursday, June 20th. These two receptions are held at the Chamber grounds from 5:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. We urge Chamber Members, Business People and interested citizens to attend and to make these Military people feel welcome to our community.

At this time we welcome Bob Ruddy into Chamber Membership. Mr. Ruddy's business is Investigative Services & AuSable Valley Security. His location is at 507 Ottawa Street, Phone 348-7333. Welcome aboard, Bob!

CHURCH DIRECTORY

CHARMING CHAP-CHUMLEY

It's unfortunate, I say, that people have a wrong impression of Chumley. He's really a capital fellow. Friendly, agreeable, always faithful. It's just a shame that folks judge Chumley by appearances.

There is one place in our community where folks are learning to see one another and the world through honest eyes. It's the Church.

As we learn more about the power and love of God we begin to gain a deeper understanding of His creation. We behold nature with reverent appreciation of its awe and wonder. We see people as reflections — however imperfect — of their Maker.

The Church is constantly stressing our spiritual potential... helping us become the people God intends us to be!

COMPLETES KIRTLAND GED TEST — Mary Skinner, 75, a Frederic resident, accomplished a significant and unusual goal for someone her age when she successfully completed the GED tests at Kirtland Community College's Testing Center on May 24, 1985. She said that this was something that she had always wanted to do since dropping out of high school in the 10th grade and raising seven children. Mrs. Skinner's scores on the GED tests were above average in spite of her being out of the classroom for 60 years. She credits her high scores to the good education she received in a one-room school house and to her reading ability. She took the tests without any formal preparatory study. Her total score of 260 was 35 points above the 225 needed to pass the five tests in writing, reading, science, social studies, and mathematics.

"Buckle Up" It's the Law As of July 1st

Crawford County residents must "buckle up" as of July 1, 1985 due to a new statewide safety belt law signed recently by Governor James J. Blanchard.

Crawford County Sheriff reminds citizens that the law requires front seat passengers to fasten their seat belts or face a $10.00 fine between July 1 and December 31, 1985.

After December 31, the fine increases to $25.00.

Violators of the new safety belt law will have no points added to their records, and police cannot stop motorists simply to check them for compliance with the law, according to Sheriff Harold Hatfield.

"The new law will cut down on traffic fatalities," Sheriff Hatfield said.

Figures released by the state of New York revealed that as a result of safety belt laws in that state, traffic deaths in the month of January 1985 decreased by 38 percent from the same month in 1984.

Sheriff Hatfield also reminds citizens that Michigan law requires children to be strapped securely in a seat belt or child safety seat.

"We hope all of the Crawford County residents will comply with the new safety belt law," Sheriff Hatfield added. "It could save your life."

There were no comments from citizens regarding use of Federal Revenue Sharing funds for 1985-86. Mr. Thompson closed the Public Hearing.

Mr. Thompson opened the Public Hearing on the 1985-86 Budget. There were no comments from the public regarding the 1985-86 Budget. Mr. Thompson declared the Public Hearing closed.

Mr. Thompson opened the Public Hearing on increasing taxes for FY 1985-86. Mr. Morford detailed the necessity for requesting an increase in taxes. He read the notice of the hearing which was published in the local newspaper. Mr. Golinick noted that in previous years the city levy was at 20.0 Mills and this was not enough to fund operations. In 1988 the DNR required the city to cease using the sewage plant and the lagoon system was built. The two wells located in the City Park had to be replaced by the new well behind the Elementary School. He noted that the budget has been cut as much as possible if we are going to continue to perform services for the citizens. Several other points were brought up by Mr. Golinick. He stated that in his opinion there is no alternative to raising taxes 2.5 Mills to adequately fund the operations of the City of Grayling. Mr. Thompson stated that he was in favor of raising taxes the 2.5 Mills since there appeared to be no other steps to be taken. Mr. Sabin asked if the raising taxes 2.5 Mills would mean replacing some of the cuts? Other Council members agreed. Ms. Latuszek noted that she was not ready to vote for a millage increase at this meeting. There were no comments from citizens regarding raising the city tax rates. Mr. Thompson declared that the Public Hearing be closed. Note: 1984-85 Tax Rate is 12.73753. Rate proposed for 1985-86 is 14.81579.

Jerry W. Morford
City Manager & City Clerk

SPECIAL MEETING OF THE CITY COUNCIL HELD JUNE 3, 1985

AGENDA — Study of the 1985-86 FY Budget.

The meeting was called to order by Mayor Thompson at 7:30 p.m.

Members present: Thompson, Sabin, Sloan, Golinick, Latuszek.

Members absent: None

Also in attendance: Jerry W. Morford, City Manager; Allen V. Schreiner, City Treasurer.

Discussion of the proposed 1985-86 Budget took place.

The City Manager noted that following the reductions made by Council at their last budget study session there was still a deficit balance of $41,405.00. Added to this the revenue reduction of $11,100 resulting from the Truth in Taxation Rollback results in a total excess of expenditures over revenues of $52,505.00 for 1985-86.

Mr. Schreiner detailed for Council the changes made at the last study session.

Mr. Golinick asked how much revenue a 2.5 mill increase would provide.

Motion by Golinick that the budget as reduced be approved and that the millage rate be set at 14.81579 mills.

Ms. Latuszek stated that if we must raise taxes then the employees raises should be reduced somewhat.

Mr. Thompson agreed that wages must be cut. Mr. Golinick did not agree with this position.

Mr. Thompson stated that cutting wages would result in less service to the community. Mr. Sloan agreed with Ms. Latuszek.

Mr. Golinick suggested that an additional $6,000.00 from Federal Revenue Sharing be transferred to the General Fund.

Mr. Thompson remarked that he wished that Council could cut raises but that it did not look as if it were possible.

Mr. Morford stated that in his opinion the city had a good group of employees and had less of a problem than some other entities.

Ms. Latuszek stated that the City Council has to trust the employees and the employees have to trust the Council and the Administration.

Mr. Sloan remarked that if Council was going to make all the other cuts then

Gene Kintner Moves To Hale Bank

Gene O. Kintner has been named president and chief executive officers of Farmers and Merchants State Bank of Hale, effective May 28th, according to an announcement by Willard Wangler, chairman of the board.

Richard Parkinson, veteran president and chief executive officer, becomes cashier and operations officer for the bank, which has branches at Rose City, Glenie, Whittemore, Sand Lake Heights and expects to expand shortly into the Tawas area.

Gene comes to Farmers and Merchants State Bank with 17 years of banking experience, having started his career with Second National of Saginaw and most recently with the Grayling State Bank.

He attended Delta College and Michigan State University, majoring in business and finance, and is a graduate of the University of Virginia Graduate School of Consumer Banking and the University of Oklahoma National Installment Credit School. In addition to his banking experience, he instructed various finance classes during a 10-year period with Delta College and Central Michigan University School of Banking.

Board Chairman Wangler noted that the bank's board of directors felt Gene's "strong lending background would not only allow Farmers and Merchants State Bank to continue to serve the needs of the bank's trade area, but to expand our services even further."

Wangler went on to say that the numerous changes affecting commercial banks during the past few years, including deregulation of interest rates, "have allowed banks to expand overall services and Gene's past experience will aid the bank in developing new products which we believe will help our customers."

Gene and his wife, Linda, have four children and will be moving from the Grayling area. The Kintners have vacationed for many years in the Tawas area and are familiar with this part of northeastern Michigan.

In the bank's official announcement, Gene expressed his pleasure in becoming associated with a bank "known for its many years of servicing the financial needs of both the customers and communities it serves." He noted that the bank's determination to remain independent "reflects the feeling that it can be more responsive to meeting the needs of its service area, if it remains locally owned."

Farmers and Merchants State Bank opened for business at Hale on February 14, 1982.

Bits O'Talk

Don't expect miracles but I'll try to get some items in. If you'll help, call me at 348-7017, I'll see what I can do. Call early in the morning before 8:00 or 8:30 and evenings as late as 11:30 and you're more likely to find me in.

I had a surprise visit with a long-ago student, Richard Wakeley, son of Pat and Richard Wakeley of North Down River Road. He is still in the Navy after 10 years, teaching deep-sea diving and living in southern California with his wife and three children.

Robert Herbison of Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, Canada was in town several weeks ago visiting old friends.

Cathy Lester and children, Henry and Arthur are spending several weeks here visiting her parents, Joe and Faith Stripe. After living and teaching in Dhahran, Saudi Arabia, for several years, they have moved to Cornwall, England, to make their home.

Another enjoyable visit was with Louella Fallon. She and husband, Mike, and two daughters are spending the summer in Grayling while she is employed at the Golden Touch. Fall will find them back in Rudyard where he commutes every day to Newberry to teach art.

Mrs. Mary Welch of Phoenix, Arizona, was another Grayling visitor recently. She accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Jack Welch of Broken Arrow, Oklahoma, to attend graduation activities of grandson, Jeff Welch. Jack has his dental technician office with his brother, Fenn, who has a dental practice and teaches at Oral Roberts University.
